KENTUCKY CONFERENCE

Of the Methodist Episcopal Church Adjourned after a very Successful Meeting.

Meeting Largely Attended and Much Interest was Shown.

Union College Receives Liberal Support.

One of the most important meetings in the history of the Methodist Episcopal Conference of Kentucky has just come to a close.

For the past week the town of Barbourville has been alive with Methodist ministers from all parts of the State, here to attend the annual conference and to transact the work that was before that body.

At the meeting of the Board of Education it was agreed that "Speed Hall" should be completed and ready for occupancy by January 1, 1905, and a fund was provided to employ a field secretary whose duty it will be to travel for the college.

The sermon Sunday morning delivered by Bishop Warren was pronounced by all who heard it as being one of the ablest and strongest ever delivered here.

Sunday evening the ministers were invited out to fill the pulpits of the sister churches, and all were treated to a good and appreciative audience.

On Monday morning the last session of the conference was held at the close of which the assignments of the ministers for the next year was read out by the Bishop as appears elsewhere.

The visiting ministers were all loud in their praise of the hospitality that was extended to them by the citizens of Barbourville, and in turn the citizens were all highly pleased with the ministers who were assigned to them, as it was frequently heard upon the streets, "We have the nicest preachers of anyone in town," while the preachers were all saying one to the other, "I have the best home in town."

This shows the feeling of Barbourville toward the Methodist preachers, and also the feeling of the ministers toward the people of Barbourville.

The meeting of the Kentucky conference here this year was a God-send to Barbourville, from the fact that the conference was permitted to see how anxious we were to have Union College continued, and the Board of Education very readily and willingly consented to give all the help necessary to the college.

We only voice the sentiments of all the citizens of Barbourville when we say that the invitation is extended to the conference to meet here at any time and the latch string hangs on the outside all the time, and the invitation standing to come back to us any time and we will welcome them to our homes.

We hope to be able to show the conference by the time they make a return visit here how much we appreciate what was done for Union College by having all the necessary improvements completed and the school in perfect order; besides the college should secure control of the vacant lot lying south of the college property and erect suitable buildings such as may be needed for the benefit of the school. This property will be sold court day, and it is to be hoped the college will secure control of it.

POINTS

To be Considered in the Selection of County Officers.

The time is drawing very near when we will be called upon to make a selection of candidates to become officers of our county, and men who will handle the finances of the county for the next four years.

We do not want to make a mistake in this matter; we want to select men who have good judgment, and men who will handle the affairs in a business-like manner, and at the same time lift the county out of the old ruts and put it on a par with the neighboring counties.

This can be done without taxing the people to death. The records show that in the past those who did the least for the improvement of the county were the ones who had the heaviest tax burden placed upon the tax payers.

The selection of the members of the Fiscal Court should be done with due consideration, and men should be selected who are active, vigorous men, men who will keep eight and men who will grasp the situation and act for themselves and not wait to be dictated to by another.

The Fiscal Court is provided over by the County Judge, and in making a selection for that position there should be no mistake made, for here the entire section could be easily spoiled.

The Judge of the county in the first place should be a judge of law, and should have the courage of his convictions to carry out the law.

We need county improvements, and are entitled to them, and so long as we depend upon the old-time ways of doing, we will continue to barely exist without making any progress in advancement; but if the younger generation is placed in control we will then see improvements come to our county, and at the same time there will be a protection thrown around the tax payer to see that his interests are not disturbed.

The people have become tired of old fogyism and want to get out of the ruts and see Knox county put on a high plain of equality equal to the best counties in the State.

Now the best and only way to accomplish this, is to elect men who are competent and willing to take upon themselves this responsibility, and the work will be accomplished.

There is no need of the younger generation preparing for positions if the older men are to be given a lifetime position in office.

We think that the men who fill our county offices should be men who help to pay the taxes, and then they would be more interested in the way the money is spent.

Now, if that is not reasonable, what is? Voters, think over these matters, and when you go to the polls to cast your vote, think of this one thing.

If I vote to perpetuate a man in office, what show has my boy got to ever succeed in a political way; while upon the other hand if I vote to place the young men of the county in positions of honor and trust, is it not reasonable that my boy may some day secure a position in like manner?

These are points that are dropped to be considered by one and all for what they are worth, and the voter is left free to act as his own conscience dictates.

NEW WORK

In Richland Oil Field. — Several New Wells Going Down.

During the past few days a great deal of new work has been commenced in the Knox county oil field, and the prospects are good for considerable activity during the next few months.

One of the newest operations is that of the Walden Oil & Refining Co., of Elkport, Ind. This concern, which a year ago drilled three wells on the Hammonds lease and two on the McDonald, striking oil at an average of 550 feet, started to pump two weeks ago, and they have produced about 200 barrels in that time. The company has a pumping plant with a capacity of sixteen wells. In an interview with Mr. L. M. Stevenson, field manager of this company, the Advocate reporter was told: "Mr. Arnold and other officers of the company are expected to arrive within a few days and in all probability will arrange for further developments in this field. We think the prospects in this field very bright, and with steady pumping expect an increased production. The Walden company controls 75,000 acres in the Kentucky-Tennessee field."

The National Oil & Development Co. has a new well going down on the Mayes lease, and the prospects for a strike are good. Several wells have been drilled in that territory, which has been fully proven.

The Kon-Vermont Oil Co., a new concern, is operating on the Wages lease and is getting good results. Two wells have been shot and show up for producers. The Richlands Oil Co., of Ohio, will probably do some drilling on the lease recently purchased from the Hadger Oil company.

With advancing prices drilling is expected to be stimulated and $1.25 oil is predicted by the first of the year.

The purchaser will give bond with good security bearing interest from date having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien reserved upon said lot until the money is fully paid.

W. F. WESTERFIELD, Com. Knox Circuit Court. This Oct. 3, 1904. oct. 7-5t.

POSTMASTER GENERAL

Henry C. Payne Died Last Tuesday Evening in Washington.

The Death Angel has invaded the President's Cabinet and has removed one of the greatest men of the age, in the person of Henry C. Payne, the Postmaster General.

Gen. Payne was born in Massachusetts sixty-one years ago, and first entered politics in 1872 and had worked his way almost to the top of the ladder of fame. Mr. Payne was selected for Postmaster General by President McKinley in the summer of 1901 and assumed the duties of the office on January 18, 1902, under appointment from President Roosevelt.

In succession to Mr. Payne, George Bruce Cortlandt, former Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor and now chairman of the Republican National Committee, will become Postmaster General.

It is the understanding now that Mr. Cortlandt will assume the duties of Postmaster General as soon as he conveniently can after the close of the pending campaign. In the interim the responsibilities of directing the affairs of the Post-office Department will devolve on Mr. Wynne, who has just returned from Europe. He will continue as Acting Postmaster General until such time as the President may designate formally the successor to Mr. Payne.

Under the law the President if required to make such an appointment within thirty days.

The future plans of the work were discussed fully and an outline of plans formulated.

A committee was appointed to draft a By-Laws for the organization. After the business of the meeting was disposed of the meeting adjourned to meet Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m.

The pardoning by Acting Governor
Thorne of Clem Butcher, the noted Louisville criminal, who should have been hung for his dastardly crime, for which the public has been severely criticizing the Acting Governor, even outstrips the pardoning of Raleigh some months ago by Mr.
Beckham, and which is still fresh in the minds of the reading public.

We think that when our State officials turn loose such men from behind the prison walls as our Governor and Lieutenant Governor have done men who have no respect for the gentler sex, but who will murder them in cold blood, should they dare to resist the indecent proposals, it is time for the better element of citizenship of Kentucky to arouse and see the situation as it exists and rise up in their might and stamp it out by voting such men to private life.

What is the need of taxing our people and conducting trial courts to secure conviction of such heinous criminals, and then have our chief executives turn them out without consulting anyone as to the propriety of such a thing.

Bill Thorne attempts to apologize and plays the baby act, but the public will not accept any such "tommy rot" as a satisfactory excuse, for liberating such a notorious criminal as Clem Butcher, besides if the prison physician can be relied upon, Thorne lied when he wrote the statement on the pardon, and knew at the time that it was a lie.

The Scott County Democrat, Vol. 1, No. 1, has made its appearance from the office of the Georgetown News, Bro. B. O. Gains being the editor of both papers. The new paper is a neatly printed 9-column sheet and, like the News, is well represented by the advertisers of Georgetown.

The first thing that attracted our attention upon opening the paper was the motto which Bro. Gains has borrowed from the MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE "Live for Our Friends; Do the greatest amount of good we can to the largest number of People." We have no objection to Bro. Gains using our motto and we wish for the Democrat abundant success and may the coffers of its editor increase abundantly.

The Local Option people at Grays scored quite a victory last Friday in the election, the vote being 31 in favor of the license to 237 against it. According to this there is a very slim prospect of whisky being licensed in Knox county.

Now that the Board of Education of the State Conference of the Methodist church have decided to put their shoulder to the wheel and give Old Union College a lift, wouldn't it be a capital idea for Barbourville to buy the Davis lot and give it to the college to show our appreciation of what the Board proposes to do for us?

A little ad in the ADVOCATE may bring you big results. Try it and be convinced.

Grave Thoughts as they Fall from the Editorial Pen. Pleasant Evening Reviews.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

AN OLD-FASHIONED WOMAN. No clever, brilliant thinker she. With college record and degree.

She has not known the paths of fame. The world has never spoken her name.

She walks in old, long trodden ways. The valleys of the yesterdays.

Home is her kingdom, love her power. To make home sweet, bring heaven near.

To win a smile and wipe a tear, And do her duty day by day.

In her own quiet place and way, Around her childish hearts are twined As round some evergreen saint on shrined.

And following her the childish feet Are lead to ideals true and sweet.

And find all purity and good In her divinest motherhood.

This sad old earth's a brighter place All for the sunshine of her face.

Her very smile a blessing throws, And hearts are happier where she treads.

A gentle, clear-eyed messenger To whisper love; thank God for her.

HOME should never be the place business should be discussed—except for a short time. Mother has had all the troubles during the day that are good for her without being compelled to listen to the troubles of her husband. Father has had enough cares while acting in the capacity of bread winner for the family without having all the details of the home troubles of the day put on his plate to digest for his evening meal.

Dismissing the doleful from morning until night is enough to set one crazy. As we want to die same we never have our troubles to our family. Home is the place to show how good you feel. If you don't feel a walk in the back yard until you get into a condition that will permit you to be a comfort to those to whom you are in duty bound to be a comforter.

THE most of the things of this life may be set to music, but people get the wrong tune and sing Naomi or Windham when they ought to set things to the music of Mount Pisgah and Coronation. We may not all of us have the means to graduate at Harvard, Yale or Oxford, but there is a college at which all of us graduate—the college of hard knocks. Misfortune, Fatigue and Disaster are the professors; kicks, cuffs and blows are the curriculum; the day we leave the world is our graduation; some sit down and cry; some turn their faces to the wall and pout; others stand up and conquer. Happy the bee that even under leaden skies looks for blossoming flowers. Wise the owl that, instead of standing in the snows with one foot drawn up under the wing, ceases not all day to pick.

INDOLENCE is an ingredient in the upper current, which was scarcely known and countenanced in the good old linen world, town and linen, mush and milk, pork and potato times of the revolutionary patriots and pilgrim fathers. We now have those among us, who would rather go hungry and be clad in rags, than to work. We regret that in this community we have a numerous train of gentlemen idlers, who pass down the stream of life at the expense of their fellow passengers. They live well and dress well, as long as possible, by borrowing and spending, and then take to gambling, swindling and stealing before justice overtakes them. As long as these persons can keep up fashionable appearances and elude the police they are received into company of the upper "Four hundred." Many an idle knave, by means of a fine coat, a fly hand, and a graceful bow has been received into the polite circles of society with eclat and walked rough-shod over a worthy young mechanic or farmer who had too much sense to make a dash or imitate the monkey shins of an itinerant dandy. A fine dress, in the eyes of some, covers more sin than charity. Young men, if you do not wish to be a nobody, or somebody much worse than nobody, then guard your youth. A lazy youth will be a lazy man just as sure as a crooked sapling makes a crooked tree. Laziness grows on people, it begins in cobwebs, and ends in iron chains. Arouse yourself, young man. Shake off the wretched and disgraceful habits of the do-nothing, if you have been so unfortunate as to incur them, and to go to work at once.

FAULT FINDING. A man would get a very false notion of his standing among his friends and acquaintances if it were possible—as many would like to say it possible—to know what is said of him behind his back. One day he would go about in a glow of self-esteem, and the next he would be bowed under a miserable sense of misapprehension and disgust. It would have been impossible for him to put this and that together and "strike an average." The fact is, there is a strange human tendency to take the present friend into present confidence. With strong nature this tendency proves often a stumbling block; with weak it attains it amounts to fickleness.

Never employ yourself to discover the faults of others—look to your own. You had better find out one of your own faults than ten of your neighbors. When a thing does not suit you think of some pleasant quality in it. There is nothing so bad as it might be. Whenever you catch yourself in a fault-finding remark, say some approving one in the same breath, and you will soon be cured. Some of the best of us have too many infirmities to answer for, says Dean Swift, we ought not to be too severe upon those of others; and, therefore, if our brother is in trouble, we ought to help him without inquiring, over seriously what produced it. True worth does not exult in the faults of others; as true refinement turns away from grossness and deformity, instead of being tempted to indulge in an unmanly triumph over it.

It would be well, if not only in looking at our own condition, but in other people we set out the sparkle instead of the gloom. With five hundred faults of our own, we ought to let somebody else have at least one. When there is such excellent hunting on our own ground, let us not rifle and greyhound pack spend all our time in scouring our neighbor's lowlands. We are afraid the imperfection of other people may kill us yet. How much better, like the sun, to find light wherever we look.

WE often think that the very rich must be very happy, but riches bring neither happiness or content. The most perfect serenity is found with those who have learned to limit their desires, rather than those who have unlimited means of gratifying their desires. To possess a home and those in it, who love us, to have health and money enough to satisfy our actual wants—these are the elements absolutely necessary to a contented life. The man who has a field to plow and plant has a better chance for health and happiness than the man who seeks by and other social diversions to get the exercise and development that the Lord meant he should obtain by labor. It is good to labor. It is good to be obliged to labor. Necessity forces us to do many things that are for our good.

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, and you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these automobiles is $10,000. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,800. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess, on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woollens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

CORRESPONDENCE.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

All correspondents who write for this paper are requested to report the news briefly and confine themselves to news. Puffs for merchants come under the head of paid locals, and would be inserted at the rate of 5 cents per line, otherwise we must pencil them.

Be careful not to write anything that will prove offensive to any one; a good joke is appreciated by all, but we want to make friends and not enemies of all with whom we come in contact.

Write on only one side of your paper and be sure to sign your own name to the manuscript—not for publication but for future reference and to show good faith—a failure to do this will hereafter necessarily consign your letters to the waste basket.

Please read these notes and bear them in mind, and write on one side of the paper only.

Respectfully,

THE EDITOR.

Cannon.

We had some frost Wednesday morning.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. D. G. Colson, as he was our friend and kinfolk.

Will Martin and wife, of near Jarvis' Store, were visiting Mrs. Martin's father at Cannon Sunday.

There was no trustee elected at Sinking Valley last Saturday.

People are about through folding, and corn is not as good as we thought it would be.

Himyar.

Well, well! Mr. Editor, here comes the little Himyar who comes knocking at your door again, and if I don't go into the waste basket, I may visit you often.

Our little town is improving, and everybody enjoys reading the Advocate, for it is the only paper in Knox county that defends the cause we love—Republicanism.

There was a big lively walk-over at the Flat Lick school-house last Saturday afternoon.

Whoop! 'rah! rah!

Thirty to ten!

Flat Lick! Flat Lick!

Boys where have you been?

Only down to Himyar;

Thirty to ten.

The Turkey creek ball team was defeated by the Himyar boys last Saturday by a score of 52 to 3 in favor of Himyar.

Ola, Ky.

Stephen Jenkins passed through this place last Friday for the burg on important business.

Chas. Blair, of Carr's Fork, Knott county, passed through Ola Monday for Engine creek after goods, but by his horse being sick, he returned home Friday, leaving his wagon.

John Bergie was shot and killed a few days ago by Tandy Martin. The only witness to the deed was Ragland Collins. Bertie had attempted to use a knife on a citizen, when Martin commanded peace, and at the same time pulled a pistol, vent away and returned with a teal ball gun and conversed with the proprietor a few minutes; he suddenly jumped to his feet and shot Bergie through the head. Bergie picked up a revolver, fired one shot at Martin and missed him, then died without uttering a word. The murderer walked to his home unmolested. The village marshal and several deputies guarded the house. The sheriff arrived from Hindman two hours after the killing was done, and found Martin asleep and placed him under arrest and took him back to Hindman. Bergie was thirty-six years of age, and recently retired from farming to ramble. He was considered a good citizen. He leaves a widow and two children.

Chas. Haynes, together with his brother, have returned from Frankfort, where they have been on business.

THE NATIONAL

is Expecting a Good Well in this Week on the Hayes Farm.

The National Oil and Development Company, of Chicago, who are operating on the Hayes farm near here, are expecting to bring in another good well to-day on that lease.

Mr. N. J. Daleiden, the Secretary of the company, was a caller at this office yesterday and gave us the information that the well now being drilled will be completed to-day, and the indications are favorable for a good flow.

The editor has been invited out to see the new well come in, and if we get to witness the sight we will give a more extensive account of it in our next issue.

Keep an eye on Knox county; there is plenty of oil here yet, and another "boom" is sure to come.
